SWING, THE BREDA'S "UP & OVER" GARAGE DOOR

Swing is BREDA's new "up and over" door which gathers up all the versatility of a sectional door with unique style and always customizable.

Made of durable aluminium structure, Swing is a "up and over" door using counterweights, distinguished by insulated panels that provide a superior thermal insulation if compared to conventional overhead doors.

Jambs and upper stationary panels have a small footprint thanks to the presence of modular steel counterweights, which also ensure a noiseless operating.

Maximum comfort for entering and exiting the garage, with the possibility to install a pedestrian door, in the same tone of door surface for a functional and elegant result.

All BREDA quality and technology of sectional garage doors, now also available on Swing, the newest "up and over" door on market.

Complete

All the BREDA quality and design now in a new and revolutionary "up and over" door. Build everything according to your lifestyle and taste! Swing provides functionality, safety and aesthetics. Release your creativity, thanks to many customization possibilities.
